Tell me, please tell me, what this plot is all about... Exactly, who resides within me?
I'm broken, so broken - amidst this world. Yet you laugh, blind to everything.

Being as broken as I am, I hold my breath,
And it can't be unraveled, it can no longer be unraveled.. Not even the truth. (Freeze) Breakable; unbreakable - psychotic; unable to
go insane
I'll find you, and...!

In this shaken, twisted world, I gradually
become transparent, unable to be seen.
Please don't bother looking for me; don't stare
at me...
I merely don't want to hurt you, inside a world,
that came out of someone's imagination.
So please remember me; as vivid as I was.

Infinitely spreading, solitude wraps around me.
Memories of times I laughed innocently comes to mind,
And I can't move, can't move, can't move, can't move, can't move, I cannot move!
Unravelling the world

I've changed; I couldn't go back to the way I was.

As the two twines around one another, the both of us will perish away...
Breakable; unbreakable - Psychotic; unable to
go insane

I can't afford to let you be defiled!

In this shaken, twisted world, I gradually
become transparent, unable to be seen.
Please don't bother looking for me; don't stare
at me...

In a trap of solitude someone had set, before
the future unravels,
Remember me; as vivid as I was.

Please don't forget me, don't forget me, don't forget me, don't forget me!

Paralyzed by the fact that I've changed,
In a paradise filled with nothing but unrecoverable things,
Please remember me.

Tell me, please tell me.. Exactly, who resides within me?

This song reflects on a boy's feeling towards the cruel world in which he resides in. "I've changed; I couldn't go back to the way I was" This was how Lady Macbeth felt when she was talking to herself in Act V Scene. Lady Macbeth could not go back to the way she was after assisting in the murder of King Duncan. "As the two twines around one another, the both of us will perish away..." In Lady Macbeth's perspective, "the both of us" implies that her original self before the night of the murder and her self after the murder. The her first self perished away as she assisted Macbeth in murdering King Duncan while her second self ends with her committing suicide at the end of the play.

“Dementia” by Owl City (ft. Mark Hoppus)

(Dementia, you're driving me crazy
This is driving me crazy,
Dementia, dementia)

Every light in the night flickered in and out
Every bone in my back shivered up and down
Keep the pace just in case all the magic dies
'Cause this is driving me crazy

Every voice in my head shouted 'yes' and 'no'
Every freight train of thought fought to stop and go
Keep the pace just in case all the magic dies
'Cause this is driving me crazy

Big surprise, I'm a ghost keeping out of sight
Rub your eyes, you're a star in a summer night
This is love, this is war, it's insanity
Dementia, you're driving me crazy

(Dementia, you're driving me crazy,
This is driving me crazy)

Every tear in my eyes dripped and wouldn't drop
Every disc in my spine shook and couldn't stop
Keep the pace just in case all the magic dies
'Cause this is driving me crazy

Every hand let me go that I tried to hold
Every warm-hearted love left me freezing cold
Keep the pace just in case all the magic dies
'Cause this is driving me crazy

Big surprise, I'm a ghost keeping out of sight
Rub your eyes, you're a star in a summer night
This is love, this is war, it's insanity
Dementia, you're driving me crazy
(Dementia, you're driving me crazy)
(Dementia, you're driving me crazy)

This is driving me crazy
(You're driving me crazy)

'Cause this is driving me crazy

Big surprise, I'm a ghost keeping out of sight
Rub your eyes, you're a star in a summer night
This is love, this is war, it's insanity
Dementia, dementia

Through the skies you're en route at the speed of light
So realize there's chaos in the air tonight
This is love, this is war, this is pure insanity
Dementia, you're driving me crazy

This is driving me crazy
Dementia, you're driving me crazy
'Cause this is driving me crazy
Dementia, you're driving me crazy
(This is driving me crazy)
(This is driving me crazy)
(This is driving me crazy)
(Dementia, dementia)

This song means that sometimes, small things could lead to pure insanity. Lady Macbeth was driven to insanity just for arranging the death of King Duncan but not carrying out the murder itself. "Every voice in my head shouted 'yes' and 'no'" was exactly what happened to Lady Macbeth when she was trying to wash her hands. She tried to clean the blood stain from her hands. She was driven to insanity because she couldn't get the blood to come off, just as events emotionally scar someone. A horrifying event could come and pass, but the memory will stain one's thoughts.

"What I've Done" by Linkin Park

In this farewell
There's no blood
There's no alibi
'Cause I've drawn regret
From the truth
Of a thousand lies

So let mercy come
And wash away
What I've do

I'll face myself
To cross out what I've become
Erase myself
And let go of what I've done

Put to rest
What you thought of me
While I clean this slate
With the hands of uncertainty

For what I've done
I start again
And whatever pain may come
Today this ends
I'm forgiving what I've done!

What I've done
Forgiving what I've done

This song is about how a man would kill himself for the things that he's done. This song strongly emphasizes how Lady Macbeth felt moments before her death. "I'll face myself, to cross out what I've become, erase myself" Lady Macbeth felt very suicidal during and after Act V Scene I. She couldn't live with herself anymore since she killed someone, she wanted to get the blood off of her hands and wanted to end the suffering. The only way she could do that was to kill herself. "And whatever pain may come, Today this ends."
